

Our mission

Our vision is to push the evolution of persuasive storytelling, making advertising as memorable as an experience at the cinema.

Who we are

Enamoured Iris is a nest of commercially minded creatives who believe that “everything is cinema”. Born into cinema and raised to persuade, our team hatch branded narratives with the care one has for their offspring. Each member possesses an enterprising spirit, unrelenting curiosity and audaciousness to question the status quo.

What we do

We craft “branded cinematic experiences”. Fusing the art of cinema and the science of marketing, we deliver intelligent, innovative and cinematic content that places brands at the centre of their customer’s life. A full-service creative agency offering everything from communications strategy to media production, Enamoured Iris works alongside marketers to transform their business into a lifestyle brand.

- Marketing Strategy: Video marketing strategy, video SEO strategy, video promotion and paid distribution.
- Video Production: Full-service creative video production, video animation and live video streaming services.
- Commercial photography: Commercial, editorial and conceptual photography for content marketing campaigns.
- New Media Experiences: Virtual reality installations and immersive 360 video production services for marketing events.
